OUR STORY

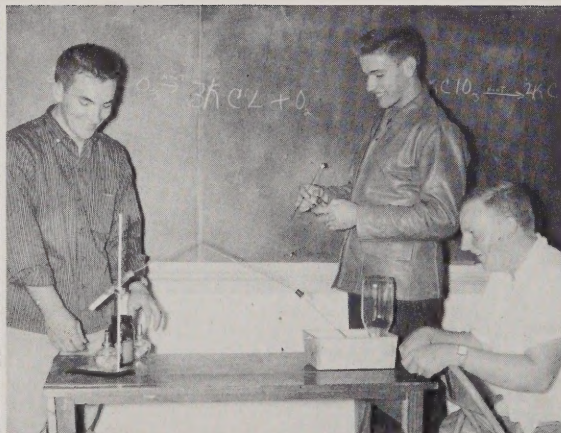

Time marches on as the hands of the clock move forward. From the beginning of our Senior year till graduation, our time was filled with all sorts of activities. Everyone's rushing around getting name cards, sending announcements, and finally the excitement of graduation are some of the things that made this year excitingly different.

The clock is like a diary holding all the memories that we have collected during our time in high school. This Yearbook which we, the Seniors of 1957, present to you illustrates the clock, and the pages of the book illustrate the times we have had during our years at Stanley High School.

People we knew

Things we did

Sports we enjoyed

WE DEDICATE...

TO OUR PARENTS AND TEACHERS

For twelve long years you have encouraged (or predicted as the occasion demanded) us to a successful school life. Only you, with your patience, wisdom, and love could know that sometime in the dim future, we would realize first what you have done for us.

We do know now in a small degree that without your untiring efforts, we never could have attained this goal along the road of life.

Yours has not been an easy task we are sure. If we have seemed ungrateful, we know you have forgiven our shortcomings, because they are the usual faults resorting from youth and inexperience.

To you, then, Parents and Teachers, the ROUNDHEAD is dedicated, with love and the assurance that you have not labored in vain. Your inspiration has led us thus far and points to a future limited only by our own ambition.

This is the year nineteen hundred and fifty-seven--a memorable year because we are graduating. To those of us who will be going from school to a job, this year represents the end of an era. To those of us who are going to college, it seems a big step in our chosen direction. Now, suppose we turn the clock back four years and do a little reminiscing. Remember when . . .

We were Freshmen wandering through the halls of Stanley High School, tip-toeing timorously past the office, gaping at lofty seniors. How embarrassed we were when we floundered into the wrong room and were met by snickers and wisecracks. Everything seemed new and different, but as the year went on we began to know our classmates better. We had an enrollment of forty-three students with Mrs. Helen Smith and Mr. Earl Woodward as our class sponsors. We lost quite a few of our classmates this year most of which were girls who chose matrimony. Our freshmen year passed quickly and the idea that we must "work hard so me old man'll be proud a me" passed quickly too.

Our Sophomore year dawned a little brighter except for the fact that our class was growing smaller and smaller. This year, thirty-three of our group returned to try to further their education. Again, Mrs. Helen Smith was our class sponsor.

Then came our Junior year. We were on the last lap of our struggle. With only twenty-six of our classmates returning, we were fortunate enough to gain a new member, Kay Redmond. Mrs. Clara Broyles was our class sponsor. We met new teachers, new personalities, and most of us were introduced formally to the office. We were beginning to work together. We spent several days touring Washington, D. C. and having loads of fun, attended a football game at Bridgewater College, and then came the most exciting time of all, we ordered our class rings which we received in April. We gave a Broadway performance called "Take It Easy" for our Junior Class Play. Needless to say, it was a huge success! At the close of this wonderful year, a Junior-Senior Party was held at Shuler's Pool sponsored by our class.

Our Time Is Here

Finally! our Senior year came with only nineteen members left in our class sponsored by Miss Ruby Hotinger. The hard work really began. We spent many hours on our Beauty Pageant, Senior Play, and other projects to raise money for our biggest events of our school years--a trip to New York in April and the publication of the 1957 Yearbook--THE ROUNDHEAD.

Commencement came at last and with it, joy mingled with tears. Many of us spent our last hours with our beloved teachers, pleading, "You can't fail Me! I'm a Senior." These good old times at Stanley High School will never be forgotten.

Not a test again?

Two heads are better than one.

If $X=2$, and $Y=7$ --

Seeing double.

Class Prophecy

The time has arrived once again for us to glance into the future. Usually, we seek the aid of the wise, old gypsy and her magical crystal ball, but this year we have a new time machine which is capable of sending us ten years into the future. So, if you will come along with me, we'll go down to Professor Von Smitz's laboratory, and see if he has the time machine ready.

As we enter the time machine, the Professor moves over to the controls. He sets the dial for the year 1967; he begins pulling levers, pressing buttons, and turning dials. Things go into a dizzy spin, onto the year 1967.

As we recover, we look around us and see the many different changes that have taken place; but we know that our friends will never change, so we set out to find some of our old classmates.

Just as we round the corner we hear the scream of tires, the power of a mighty engine that has just been speed shifted. As the car flashes by, (a 1967 Chevrolet) we recognize the driver immediately. It's our classmate, RANDOLPH COUCH, now a test driver for General Motors. But wait, here comes another car, siren screaming and tires crying as he rounds the curves sharply. We recognize this driver also. He is JIMMIE SEEKFORD, a state trooper who doesn't know that Randolph was just testing the car. (Good luck, boys!)

While we walk along we notice a new bridge being built. The foreman is a short, stocky, man who is shouting out orders to his men. Why, I believe, yes it is! It's our own Geometry Professor, SYDNEY COMER. Sid is now a civil engineer.

As we pass the Post Office, we see a lovely Wave Recruiting Officer. Well, if it isn't DOLORES BLAKEMORE. It really looks like she should be recruiting for the navy.

Now, we pass a huge business establishment. Look at the gold engraving on that building, BOBBY STONEBERGER & COMPANY. I wonder, yes it's another of our old classmates. Old "Porkchops" has developed into a very successful businessman. (I can see him now reclining in his office chair, puffing on a 10¢ cigar). Bobby always did well in General Business.

Say! did you notice the author of that new novel. The name seems familiar. Let me see, MAX ALESHIRE, why yes, it must be the Max we know. He always did like to write. He even ventured into the field of poetry when he was in high school.

Let's go back to our old school for awhile. Who do we see in the gymnasium but our athletic senior, WAYNE YATES and his young bride Brenda. Wayne is now handling the coaching chores at our Alma Mater.

On our trip into the future we stop at a church on the outskirts of town where two young people, our own KAY REMOND and her husband, Leon, were busy teaching their classes.

Across the street we see a hospital and there hurrying through the corridors we find an attractive, cheerful, nurse who is better known to us as DORIS PAINTER. She has just been appointed Superintendent of Nurses.

The future also reveals a couple of young ladies who are still inseparable. They are DELORES PAINTER and JANIE DOVEL, who are now working as secretaries in an automobile factory. The owner of the factory, it seems has long been a Chevrolet man. It must be our high school hot rodder, KENNETH GOODE. I see an attractive dark haired girl by his side. Who is she Kenny Boy? Hm-m-m.

As our "time machine" reveals more, I see a strong, young, man with blonde hair by the name of GARLAND HOUSDEN who is speed shifting his new Ford tractor to get the plowing done in time for his date tonight with S. D.

Elvis Presley's fame has been ruined by two of our own handsome men with their golden voices. It looks like KENNETH HILLIARD and DANIEL DOVEL have gone to Hollywood to give the lucky girls a break.

Here in the wonderful land of tomorrow we also see a brown Oldsmobile full of girls. Yes, there's a handsome blonde haired Marine in there, too. It's none other than the lady's man, handsome, smiling RUSSELL BARLOW.

The future has brought marriage to the last two of our senior girls. Their families present no problems for them. MARY JANE MILLER lives on a large farm, but she doesn't worry about hiring any help to run the place. You see, she raises boys to do the work for her. ELAINE FOLTZ has a large chain of drug stores so that all of her children will be sure to have an after school job.

Well now, will you look at that man? He looks slightly familiar. Oh yes, it's Dr. BOBBY OWENS who just moved back to town to help out at the new hospital.

Now that we've traveled into the dreamland of the future, we must be getting back into the land of today. As the hands of the clock move around each moment brings us closer to the land of Someday.

Little we thought long years ago,
When ever-eager and "on the go,"
That someday graduates we would be,
Treading the road of destiny.

Pictures taken in early years,
With faces dirty and hair uncombed,
As through our childhood days we roamed,
Portray ourselves as little dears.

Last Will And Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1957, being of sound mind and body, do hereby make this our last will and testament.

To the Faculty, we bequeath our thanks and appreciation for the assistance and guidance they have given us through all these years. We especially appreciate the preparation given us by our homeroom sponsors.

To Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Dovel, we bequeath our thanks for all the small favors, with big results, they have given us, and also for being just good friends.

To Mrs. Dinges, Mrs. Huffman, and all the kitchen help, we bequeath our thanks for all the wonderful lunches throughout the year. We especially appreciate those little snacks in the morning which got us through the day.

To Nelson Foltz, we bequeath our thanks for keeping our school clean and our fires going on those cold days.

To the Junior Class, we bequeath our books, notes, outlines and research papers which will bring you through with flying colors.

To the Sophomore Class, we bequeath our congratulations for reaching that halfway mark in high school. You are headed in the right direction for a bright future.

To the Freshman Class, we bequeath our courage and strength to get you through the next four years. There's a long, rough road ahead, but the reward is great.

I, Max Aleshire, bequeath my ability and cunning ways to handle a dependable, durable, longer running, best looking and most attractive Dodge to Wayne Ettare.

I, Russell Barlow, bequeath my ability to be broke most of the time to Tony Comer.

I, Dolores Blakemore, bequeath my extra weight to poor, skinny, Mr. Ballard.

I, Sydney Comer, bequeath my driving ability to Warner Yates. Don't knock over any more gas tanks Warner.

I, Randolph Couch, bequeath my sly ways to Allen Kearns. Don't get caught "Casper."

I, Daniel Dovel, bequeath my job as school bus driver to anyone who thinks they can handle it. It sometimes "Get's Rhythm" with Elvis Presley's, "Rock n Roll."

I, Janie Dovel, bequeath my long blond hair to Jeanie Comer.

I, Elaine Foltz, bequeath my seat in a certain Chevrolet to no one.

I, Kenneth Goode, bequeath my dislike for Fords to Francis Huffman.

I, Kenneth Hilliard, bequeath my ability to drive a Ford up on a certain farm, starting in Pine Grove, to Charles Turner. Beware of bad dogs.

I, Garland Housden, bequeath my trips to Luray every night for the purpose of wasting time to Kenneth Dovel.

I, Mary Jane Miller, bequeath my interest in out of town boys to Patsy Breeden. You had better get someone close home, Patsy, distance apart may cause trouble.

I, Bobby Owens, bequeath my 20 lbs. of overweight to Kenny Louderback. Develop that fat into muscle Kenny boy! Remember, you asked for it.

I, Delores Painter, bequeath my freckles to Barbara Jenkins.

I, Doris Painter, bequeath my A's to Tony Comer.

I, Kay Redmond, bequeath my slow ways to Amanda Good.

I, Jimmie Seekford, bequeath my desire to be a State Trooper to Grafton Aleshire.

I, Bobby Stoneberger, bequeath my ability to owe bills for a long time to Jennings Painter. Don't let them pile up on you.

I, Wayne Yates, bequeath my wavy hair to John Belton.

The Class of '58, under the sponsorship of Miss Jane Short, continued to be active and prosperous during their Junior year.

Way back when they were Freshmen, they had Mrs. Xenia Durette and Mr. Frank Ballard as their class sponsors. They took part in such activities as the Band, Glee Club, Latin Club and for the first time were invited to the school parties.

As active students in their Sophomore year, they sponsored a Christmas dance which was a huge success and enjoyed by many. Several of the girls became Cheerleaders and one was Runner-up in the Beauty Pageant. This year, Mrs. Helen Smith and Mrs. Diane Graves were their class sponsors.

Now as Juniors, they took an even more active interest in school activities. Some of the high-lights of this year were an overnight trip to Washington, D. C., class play, and the day they received their class rings. In the spring they gave the Seniors a wonderful night of pleasing memories when they held the Junior-Senior party.

Next In Line

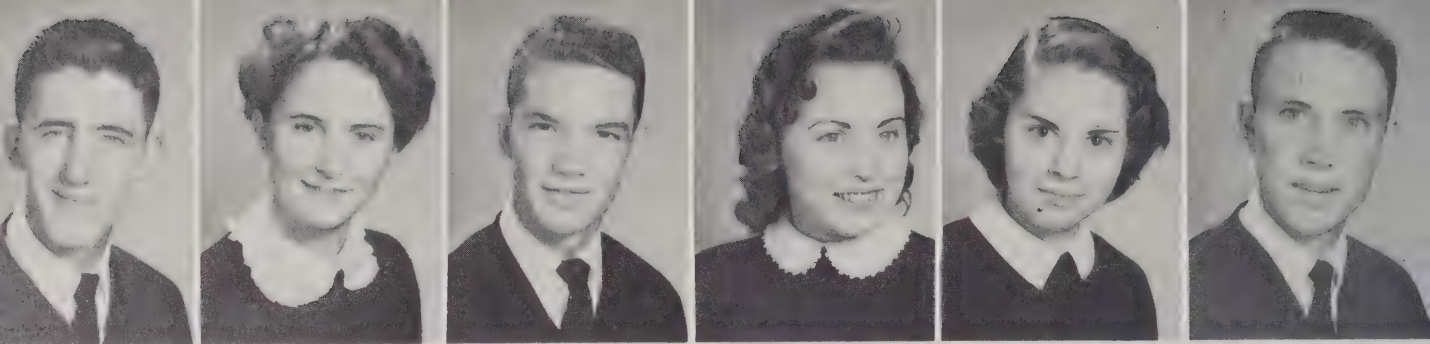

Soon their goal will be achieved and they will be recognized as Seniors. Though they do not know what the coming year may hold, they await their Senior days anxiously and with a feeling of pride.

With all the active interest this class has shown, they have kept up a very good scholastic rating, and we're certain that S. H. S. has profited from their experience as well as the students.

Sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Huffman and Mrs. Helen Smith, this class of able bodied students have already made their mark in the history books of S. H. S.

They have placed many on the softball and basketball teams and cheerleading squad. Some of their other activities have been entering the Beauty Pageants, Amateur Contests, Minstrels, Piano Recitals, May Day exercises, and attending school parties and picnics.

During their years in high school they have taken active part in the Band, Glee Club, 4-H Club, Art Club, Spanish Club, and Latin Club.

They are anticipating many more happy days at S. H. S. and with the effort and determination we have seen them put forth we believe they will achieve these expectations.

There are fifty-six Freshmen this year sponsored by Miss Nancy Shuler and Mrs. Frank Ballard. Full of life and vigor, they have taken an active part in our school activities this year. They added new members to our Band, Glee Club, Spanish Club, took part in the Beauty Pageant and have several members on the cheerleading squad. They are preparing to put heroes on our softball field and on our basketball floor in future years. Of course, those Freshmen were always at the softball and basketball games cheering their school teams on to victory.

The will to succeed is held by everyone in the class with hopes of graduating with one of the best records in Stanley High School's history.

Elementary Grades

The peppy, energetic Elementary Grades have rapidly become a part of the life in our school. They all have done their part in keeping the school spirit up.

With all the Elementary teachers backing them, they have taken an active part in the Beauty Pageant, Tiny-Tot Wedding, Christmas program, and May Day Exercises. They are the ones that make up our Junior Band and Junior Majorettes. If they keep up their good work, we have much good music to anticipate for the future.

Although their school life has just begun, they have left an everlasting impression in the hearts of many.
